Celebrating 40 Years of Excellence

Clark Youth Theatre is Tulsa's longest running youth arts program outside the public schools. The City of Tulsa turned a former Lutheran church into a youth theatre in 1978, and Clark operated as part of the Tulsa Park and Recreation Dept. for 35 seasons. Now in a converted community center, Clark Youth Theatre is a 501-c3 non-profit company committed to providing a quality, affordable education for all through the performing arts.

Clark provides students, ages 8-18, a safe and inclusive environment where they can participate in year-round programming taught by industry professionals. From beginners to advance, all students learn valuable life skills such as teamwork, problem solving, and leadership.
